Reading room hours change from 1 December

From Monday 1 December, the main reading room opens one hour later on weekdays, at 10:00 instead of 9:00. It still closes at 20:00. Weekend hours do not change.

The later start gives staff one hour each morning to reshelve returned books and prepare the rooms booked for the day. The book drop outside the main door stays open at all hours, and returns made before 10:00 are checked in the same day.

New reading room hours

Monday to Friday	10:00 to 20:00
Saturday	10:00 to 17:00
Sunday	12:00 to 17:00

The study rooms on the first floor follow the same hours. If you have booked a study room for 9:00 on a weekday in December, we will move the booking to 10:00 and tell you by email.

Questions about this change can go to the front desk or to the library office during opening hours.

This is a sample document made by CyberNative AI LLC to show what its public PDF accessibility check reports. The library, its hours and every other detail are fictional. The file was exported without tags on purpose.